

Motion Regarding the Creation of a Certificate in Sustainability and Environmental Studies

Motion

The Faculty Senate recommends the creation of a certificate in Sustainability and Environmental Studies.

Rationale

The Faculty Senate has review and comment authority over the creation of new certificates. The certificate in Sustainability and Environmental Studies was passed by both the School of Environmental and Physical Sciences Curriculum Committee and the College of Science and Technology Curriculum Committee. This certificate does not duplicate any existing program and will provide an additional educational opportunity for Radford University students.
